HAIR 1903 PRESIDENT

Thomas J. Hair Elected President of the Senior Class This Morning

Other Offices to Be Filled at a Meeting in Near Future

Thomas J. Hair was today elected president of the senior class. The election was held at the regular division meeting of the upper seniors, the order of business having been determined upon at the last division meeting. The offices of vice-president, secretary, and treasurer are to be filled at a meeting to be called by President Hair in the near future.

The attendance at the division meeting was large, the business of the meeting having been carefully published. In the absence of H. M. Tingle, the president of the present class in its junior year, Arthur G. Thomas, chairman of the Senior College Council, presided. Upon a vote it was decided to have viva voce nominations and to vote by ballot.

The names of Hayward D. Warner, Walker G. McLaury and Thomas J. Hair were placed in nomination. Platt M. Conrad was also nominated, but just before this nomination Mr. Conrad had himself moved that the nominations be closed. Mr. Hair was elected on the first ballot by a majority vote. Upon motion the meeting then adjourned to meet for the election of the other officers at the call of the president.

Mr. Hair has in his three years of undergraduate life been an active worker in University affairs. He is a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity, and has membership in a number of honor societies. In his sophomore year he was named to speak to the incoming freshmen at the freshmen convocation, and the same year participated in the ivy exercises on Junior Day. Last year Mr. Hair was named as a University marshal, and also a managing editor of The Cap and Gown. At the exercises of last year's senior class he received the senior bench.

The tellers, Bruce McLeish and Ralph Kerr, reported the result of the ballot to Chairman Thomas, as follows:

| | |
|------------------|----|
| Mr. Hair..... | 59 |
| Mr. McLaury..... | 24 |
| Mr. Warner..... | 21 |

As the total was 104, only the one ballot was necessary. Mr. Thomas announced that Mr. Hair had been elected president.

MANAGER FOR THE MUSICAL CLUBS

C. R. McMillen Elected to Look After Financial Affairs of Glees and Mandolin Men

The old members of the musical clubs met yesterday afternoon and elected a business manager. Charles R. McMillen, for three years a member of the Oberlin University Glee Club, and a soloist on our last year's club, was unanimously elected.

Mr. McMillen spoke of submitting some definite plans for club trips by the end of this week. A trip is a certainty if the men do hard, patient work.

All the old members are enthusiastic in their support of the leaders and the manager, and if the new men take the same attitude the most successful season in the history of the musical clubs is assured.

An assistant business manager is to be elected from the Mandolin Club as soon as that club is definitely made up.

The names of individuals and places should be printed out in script copy for THE DAILY MAROON.

ELECTION BY RUSH SENIORS

President of Class Chosen After Stormy Session—Ury, Successful Candidate—Three Hours Consumed in Arguing and Balloting by Class of 1903

After three hours of the most stubborn fighting at Rush the class of 1903, chose J. B. Ury for its president.

President Fick called the meeting to order and the minutes of the last meeting were read at which the vote stood Tuffley 99, Ury 98. Mr. Smith took exceptions to that part of the minutes which read that a motion for reconsideration had been carried. President Fick said the minutes were wrong and that he had consulted several parliamentarians, their opinion being that Mr. Tuffley had been elected.

Mr. Seifert moved that the minutes of the last meeting be accepted as read. Mr. Smith offered an amendment that the minutes be accepted as corrected. The amendment was lost, the motion carried. At this juncture Mr. Fick called Mr. Tuffley to the chair and recognized him as president. Mr. Roark then said that since the minutes of the last meeting, as accepted by the majority vote of the class, explicitly states that a motion to reconsider the election had been carried, that with all due respect for Mr. Tuffley, he had no right to the place of president; he moved that the class proceed to ballot. Then followed the hottest time of the whole meeting.

After much discussion Mr. Roark insisted that the motion be put before the class, whereupon Mr. Tuffley called upon the sergeant-at-arms to remove Roark, which was not done. Discussion followed, participated in by Shago, Black, Oliver, Ecke, Palmer, Smith, and many others. A motion to adjourn was overwhelmingly defeated. Mr. Fick again stated that the minutes were incorrect, but the secretary, Mr. Baldwin, insisted that the minutes were correct, and, inasmuch as they had been accepted by a majority, that they must stand.

Another motion to adjourn was put, and Mr. Tuffley, without submitting the motion, declared the meeting adjourned, whereupon about fifty members of the class, including Tuffley and Fick, left the room, but at this moment McIntosh, first vice-president, took charge and, calling the men to order, stated that in lieu of the absence of the president he considered it his duty and his right to preside, and as the motion to adjourn had not been voted upon that the class was still in session. He submitted Roark's motion and called upon all those in favor of the motion to stand up, whereupon nearly all stood. Just at this moment Mr. Fick returned to the room and Mr. McIntosh asked him to take the chair, but he refused. McIntosh then appointed Messrs. Gordon, Block, Seifert, Ecke, and Newcomer as tellers. Count was made showing 154 present. A vote by ballot was then taken, but on a technicality was declared illegal, and a vote by roll followed, resulting Ury 121, Tuffley 12. Mr. Ury then took the chair and made a speech to the class.

MICHIGAN TEAM PICKED

Varsity Golfers Leave at Three O'Clock Tomorrow for Ann Arbor

The University of Chicago Golf Team leaves for Ann Arbor, via the Michigan Central, at 3 P.M. tomorrow. F. Pettit, A. Dixon, H. Sloan (captain), W. Magee, and possibly B. Pettit will go.

The Michigan try-out has been completed and their team chosen. Their competition was like ours.

LIBRARY HAS NEW QUARTERS

Rooms in Press Building well Lighted and Commodious—Space Limited Temporarily by Law School—Mrs. Dixon Tells of Library's Founding

The moving of the general library from the temporary building to the pleasant fire-proof rooms in the new Press Building was one of great importance. The rooms now occupied are on the east and north sides of the second floor. The light is the very best and there is little noise. The rooms are a great deal more commodious than the ones of former years. The shelving is all iron and many more books are at the service of the students. A library elevator is operated between the reading-room and the stack-room which is on the third floor. An attendant in the stack-room is always ready to send down the book wanted.

A part of the general library, of which little is heard among the students, is situated in the basement of Haskell, under the president's office. It is an absolutely fire and moisture-proof vault in which the most valuable manuscripts and precious books are kept. These are not accessible except when accompanied by an attendant.

The librarian, Zella Allen Dixon, has watched the development and progress of the central library with more than ordinary interest. She has filled that office since April 1891, more than a year before the University was organized. The nucleus of the immense library of which we are now so proud, was in the Divinity Library of Morgan Park. Later the books of the Chicago University were turned over to the new school. The first move was from Morgan Park to a store building on Fifty-fifth-street, a short time later it was transferred to a room in Cobb Hall. In January, 1892, the library was moved into the temporary building in which it remained until transferred to the Press Building.

INTERCOLLEGiate GYMNASTICS

Mr. Butterworth has announced that there will be an intercollegiate gymnastic meet next March, at Champaign, Ill. This meet will consist of bar work, horse and parallel-bar work. The teams who will probably enter are: Wisconsin, Illinois, Beloit, Grinnell, Michigan, and Chicago.

INCORRECT STATEMENT PUBLISHED

No Foundation for $2,000,000 Building Story in a Morning Paper

"Plans are now being prepared for a great downtown building for the University of Chicago, wherein will be located the city business offices of that institution, the proposed musical college of the University, Central Church, and Theodore Thomas' Orchestra."

This is the "lead" to a front page article appearing in one of this morning's dailies, and to many it was surprising. The rumor was officially denied this morning by Dr. Shepardson.

"There is absolutely nothing in the article," said the president's secretary, "at least there is nothing new. If you look at that same front page in the year 1897 you will find the same piece. The only difference is the one published this morning is slightly warmed over, but other than that the reading and the idea is the same."

By the way the "story" reads it is apparent that a down-town reporter secured his information from some citizen who would like to see the University drawn into such a project. No correspondent at the University is responsible for the piece.

3,000 ROOTERS COMING

Illinois Will Send Larger Delegation Saturday Than Came Last Year

Game Means Much to Both Institutions—Hard Fight is Certain

Last year between 1,900 and 2,000 people came up from Champaign for the Chicago-Illinois game. This year, according to present indications, there will be about 3,000. Mr. Butterworth sent down 500 of the $2 tickets last week, and they were taken up immediately and more have been sent to Champaign. The excitement in Champaign is intense, but suppressed, and great preparations are being made for the trip.

Illinois evidently expects to play a good hard game. Of course, we will probably beat them, but we must strain every nerve for the ordeal, and the game is not so certain that constant and noisy encouragement can be dispensed with on our side of the bleachers. We must be better than Illinois on the bleachers as well as on the field, for the happy outcome of the game may be turned by the slightest shortcoming. While everybody knows that we a very much better team than last year at this time, yet we must remember that Illinois has practically the same excellent, experienced team that beat us last year, and we must make an extra effort to redeem ourselves. The comparative work of the two teams this year is very nearly equal, and the two scores against Purdue seems to indicate that this contest will be a battle of giants.

The mass meeting committee has arranged for a great gathering on Friday morning, and every student of the University is expected to be there. A lively time is promised.

* * *

Dr. Raycroft said that if Saturday's game was the last one of the season Bezdek might be played, but, as it is, he does not advise it.

* * *

The practice yesterday was almost a repetition of Monday's drill. Secrecy was continued, and the new plays were worked out in the north part of the field, where the east bleachers, the fence, and darkness helped to keep Mr. Stagg's new inventions unknown to outsiders. The tackling dummy was again brought into active use, and the team was given a long drill with the sawdust man. The team is showing better form this week. There is more team work and not so much individual play. The new backs are working almost as a unit.

* * *

Indiana, our next opponent after Illinois, ought not to cause us any trouble. Purdue, defeated De Pauw 44 to 0, and Indiana took De Pauw in tow 16 to 5. We should beat Beloit as badly as Wisconsin did Saturday 52-6. Beloit has lost the services of Ed Merrill and it seems to have taken the backbone out of the team. The Michigan-Notre Dame game was somewhat of a surprise. The score of 23 to 0 does not tell the story by a long way. Coach Yost says he was satisfied with the work of the Wolverines, and that means quite a bit. But Chicago should cheer up. The way Salmon, the Notre Dame full-back, tore up the Michigan line is about as pleasing a piece of football gossip as any one could wish to read. We have three weeks to prepare for Michigan.

* * *

Assistant-coach Garry, who saw the Illinois-Purdue game, gives the following opinion on the outcome of the Chicago-Illinois game next Saturday.

"Chicago will have to improve this week, in order to beat Illinois. The Illini have a splendid, fast team. They have the weight and know how to use it. Chicago should not be confident, judging from Illinois' game with Purdue, as Purdue played a better game at Champaign than at Marshall Field. Illinois also used some of her sub-backs. Then the weather was hot."

* * *

The fact that the Illinois students and the team come up Saturday morning, is due to an old superstition. On every previous occasion the Illinois teams have always de-

And what can the girls do for their Alma Mater? Their interests opportunities for '06 Women while in college are much the same as those of the men, their duties and possibilities of proving their loyalty are similar. So to the freshman girl we would say, find out what activities are open to you in your college life, then give to as many as you can your hearty and enthusiastic support. Don't go in for everything unless you are sure you have the time and strength, but be a power in those things for which you do decide. A concentration of strength and energy will accomplish more for your University than a wide scattering of even good ability.

In the first place, an association which is open to all the women, which unites their interests, and whose purpose is to increase their social welfare, is the Woman's Union. By joining this you further your acquaintance and receive the broadening influence which comes from making many friends and meeting and listening to people of interest.

Another body that it is well for every girl to ally herself with is the Women Students' Christian League. This stands for a positive good in the college life and expresses the desire for leading a higher life. Its purpose is partly, also, to further social intercourse.

For those who are athletically inclined, there are the teams—hockey, golf, basketball, and later, baseball, which all need your active support. Then there is the Freshmen Glee Club which is to be organized. This is a new attempt, and its success remains with you.

But you budding literary geniuses, why do you "hide your light under a bushel-basket?" THE DAILY MAROON needs you on its reporter's staff. THE MONTHLY MAROON is awaiting your production. The time will not be long in coming for The Cap and Gown to make its annual appearance.

In a parting word, whatever your talent may be, wherever your interests may lead you, be a positive influence wherever you are found.

College life, for most men, includes a good many spare hours, which are spent in what may be called "loafing." By "loafing" is not meant mere idling, but rather time spent in getting acquainted with classmates and in absorbing the atmosphere of college life.

Yale had her fence, California had her bench, and other colleges have had similar institutions, but Chicago has never had a traditional loafing ground. There have always been, of course, the small seats scattered on the campus, but the fact that they are scattered has caused them to be the centers of cliques or groups, and has defeated the idea of a general assembly place for all the men.

THE MAROON suggests that, following in the footsteps of the University of California, a large bench in the shape of a C with the opening toward Cobb Hall, be built on the campus. Such a bench would become a great factor in the development of college life. It would become a meeting-place for the men and place for all informal outdoor assemblies.

In time it would be regarded with sentimental affection by the undergraduates. In order to make it strictly a student expression the initiative for building it should come not from the University officially, but from the undergraduate body, and the expense should be defrayed by general subscription.

If this suggestion appeals to the members of the University a general discussion is invited, and communications regarding it will be gladly considered by THE MAROON.
