A SUCCESS AT COLBY

Separate Instruction at That Institution Under Dr. Small as President

Interviewed Today He Tells of the Plan as Worked Out in Maine College

The fact that a plan of separate instruction for men and women, somewhat similar to the one which has recently been adopted by the trustees of the University, has been worked out and is now being carried on in another American educational institution, is not widely known. However, in the state of Maine during the time in which Dr. Albion W. Small was president, a scheme somewhat similar to the one which President Harper has worked out for Chicago, was put into operation. Without doubt the plan which the president has recently carried to a climax was suggested by the effective operation of separate instruction at Colby college. Dr. Small, now professor and head of our sociology department, was interviewed this morning. He had the following to say concerning separate instruction at Colby:

"The plan of 'co-ordination,' as it is called at Colby, was put in operation while I was president of that college. It has been referred to frequently in connection with our recent discussion, but it does not seem to me to have much bearing, one way or the other, upon our problem. The situation at Colby was not only a very restricted affair, compared with ours, but the conditions were almost the reverse of those with which we have to deal.

Opposition of Men

"There was determined opposition on the part of the men to the presence of women in college at all. The plan aimed in part to mitigate this hostile feeling. We have no such sentiment here, so far as I am aware, but the undergraduate men and the women appear to take a more lively interest in each other than is compatible with due attention to college work.

"So far as the experience of Colby tends to prove anything at all that concerns us, I should say that it is evidence to the effect, first, that thoroughly satisfactory and wholesome relations may be maintained between young men and young women in the same college, without the element of co-instruction. At Colby the men and the women have the same courses, under the same instructors, in the same class-rooms, but at different hours from the men. This applies to all the required courses of the freshman and sophomore years. The plan had the immediate effect of turning the temper and conduct of the men toward the women from that of badly concealed intolerance to courtesy and respectful comradeship.

Plan Will Be Beneficial to Both

"The other thing which the Colby plan has proved is that equality of opportunity for men and women does not depend on co-instruction. It is only fair to say that the alumnae of Colby, who were graduated before the present plan went into effect, were unanimously opposed to the change, and that they have not altered their opinion about it. They admit that the evils which they feared have not developed, but they are not yet convinced that there have been any good results. My own opinion is very positive that our new plan will prove beneficial to both men and women. But even if those who think otherwise prove in the end to have been correct, the Colby experience, so far as it goes, indicates that there is no imminent danger in preserving a thoroughly scientific attitude toward our present enterprise. If the minority are right no serious harm can be done while the experiment is failing to fulfil the expectations of its friends. If the majority are right, the experiment will eventually disarm the fears of the minority."

EDUCATIONAL CONFERENCE

Instructors of Affiliated and Co-operating Schools Meet at University November 7 and 8

The sixteenth educational conference of the instructors of academies and high schools affiliating or co-operating with the University, will be held Cobb Lecture Hall Friday and Saturday, November 7 and 8, 1902. So Nathaniel Butler, acting dean of advanced standing and of affiliations, stated today. The first session is to be held at 2 p.m. Friday. Between the morning and afternoon sessions of Saturday an informal reception and luncheon will be tendered to the delegates at the Quadrangle Club.

A detailed program of the conference will be published in THE DAILY MAROON later.

FALL TRACK TRYOUT THURSDAY

Mr. Stagg expects to hold a little track and field meet on Thursday. All new men are especially urged to come out and try. Men in Stagg's classes will also participate. This will be a fine chance to discover good material among new men. Cross-country men will run a mile and two miles, and all of them are expected to come out.

ATHLETE TEACHERS IN DEMAND

Many Faculty Places Open for Men With an Athletic Training

"There is a growing demand in the strong high schools for teachers who can at the same time assist the boys in their athletics," said Mr. Mayo Fesler, secretary of the board of recommendations, to a reporter of THE DAILY MAROON. "We have had many calls for such men during the year from first-class high schools and academies. Most of these vacancies we have been unable to fill because we have had no candidates with athletic training. The average superintendent realizes the need of a director of athletics in his school. He wants this man, at the same time, to be of sufficient mental caliber and scholarly attainments to be a member of the school faculty. He does not insist upon him ranking first in his class as a scholar. He wants rather an all-round man, a fair student, a capable teacher, and a young man who can mix with the boys without losing his dignity.

"Such men are at a premium. They are always in demand. Guessing roughly, I should say that we have had at least fifty calls for such teachers this year. Mr. Stagg has had many more."

"Would you advise a student, who is planning to teach, to go into athletics?" was asked.

"I most certainly do, if he has any ability in that line. Even enough knowledge to assist the boys is of great value. His influence with them will far more than compensate him for the time spent in gaining this knowledge. The boys will heed and remember his advice not only in regard to athletic affairs but in all the affairs of the school. The average high-school boy's hero is the athlete. The teacher he most admires is the one who is either an athlete or knows athletics. I wish we had fifty such candidates for next spring."

DEBATE PRELIMINARIES

First Trials for Team to Meet Michigan, January 9—Eighteen Men to be Picked at This Hearing

Thursday evening of this week the preliminary trials for the Michigan debate will be held. At these preliminaries six men will be chosen from the combined graduate and law schools, and six each from the divinity school and the senior college. Junior college students are not eligible to compete.

Fifty candidates responded to the call of Mr. Chandler two weeks ago and signified their intentions of entering the preliminary lists. If these men appear for the trials a promising team will be chosen. No members of last year's team are eligible.

While two of them, L. P. Lewis and C. A. Huston, are at the University, the rules of the Intercollegiate Debating League disqualify them.

The trials Thursday will be judged by members of the public speaking department and the English department, together with L. P. Lewis, C. A. Huston, and J. P. Warren, an old Harvard debater. The speakers will be permitted but a short time for their argument, and Mr. Chandler suggests that one point be chosen for a thorough discussion, and not the whole question.

The question is:

Resolved, That party candidates for elective offices within the states should be nominated by direct vote of the party.

Regardless of the fact that Michigan's team was defeated by Minnesota last year, that institution still remains the strongest debating college in the West, and the public speaking department hopes a strong number of candidates will try for our team.

UNIVERSITY ADDRESS LIST

Catalogue of 500 Names and Addresses to be Ready November 1

The University list, with 500 names and addresses, will be ready November 1.

This list includes the names of the trustees of the Divinity School, the officers of administration, officers of instruction in the various schools and colleges of the University, the officers of the Students' Fund Society and donors of buildings.

PRESTON KYES COMPLIMENTED

Professor J. Clarence Webster, in his lecture on obstetrics to the junior class of Rush Medical College, gave a brief review of the Huxley address delivered by Professor Welch, of the department of pathology of Johns Hopkins University, before the Royal Scientific Society of England, on the subject of "Immunity." In the article frequent mention was made of the work of Preston Kyes, under the famous Ehrlich. Professor Webster said in part: "The fact that he belongs to the faculty of Rush Medical College, should make you doubly appreciate the honors conferred upon your former professor and, through him, upon your college."

The Huxley address is delivered annually before the Royal Scientific Society of England, and the reading of it is considered among the very highest honors a scientific man can attain. The American medical profession must certainly feel highly honored by the fact that the Johns Hopkins' pathologist was invited to deliver the address.

Northwestern girls have been notified that from today they will have to occupy seats away from the men in chapel. This decree follows close upon the one which kept the girls from participating in the inaugural parade.

BELOIT GAME SATURDAY

Begins at 10:30—Will Be Contested on East Gridiron if it Rains

Scrappy Beloit Team Will Try to Score on Trick Plays—Crossed Wisconsin's Goal

It has been feared that the Beloit-Chicago game would seriously interfere with the Michigan-Wisconsin contest. There seems to be but little reason for this, for we have two football fields instead of one.

"It has always been my intention ever since the Michigan-Wisconsin game was arranged to be played on Marshal Field November 1, to have the field in best possible shape for the contest," said Director Stagg this morning in speaking of the game. "Our contest in the morning with Beloit will, in no way, interfere with the game in the afternoon. If the day is dry or just an ordinary one, there should be no trouble whatever in pulling off the contest on the regular field.

"However, if it should rain, or the field should be anything but in the best possible condition, we will have the game played on the practice-field east of the east bleachers. That would in no way hinder the big game.

"The game in the morning will be started early enough to prevent any confusion between the two games. It is scheduled for 10:30. The halves will be made short if possible, and the game will be stopped at 12 o'clock."

While the game with the Beloit collegians promises to be a fairly hard one, yet there is no grave doubt as to the outcome. We want to win by a good score this year. It will be remembered that they tied us last year with a 17 to 17 score, and we hope to redeem ourselves this year by preventing them from scoring and running up a large score ourselves. While Beloit is usually looked upon as less formidable than some of the state universities, yet their athletic teams are often so formidable that many of our big nine have fallen before them.

The Beloit team of this year is a very good one and has been able to score upon Wisconsin. They always play a wide-awake game and never know when they are beaten, and we will not see them lay down at any time in the game, for Beloit teams never turn yellow.

In Saturday's game with Illinois Chicago kicked 14 times with a total distance of 550 yards or an average of 39 $\frac{1}{2}$ yards for each kick. Illinois kicked 350 yards in 11 attempts, an average of 31 $\frac{1}{2}$ yards. Chicago carried the ball 64 yards more than Illinois did during the entire game although Illinois ran it back from punts 28 yards more than we did. We punted three times more than Illinois did and this accounts for the 28 yards which Illinois ran back in excess of our men. The figures plainly show that our "Shorty" out-punted Beebe.

Now that our football team is well started in the season and is straining every nerve to come out on top, we cannot refrain from expressing a few words of praise for the men who are working so hard and faithfully. Very few people appreciate what rigid training the men are subjected to; how every morsel of food is carefully selected, and how particular they are about everything, even to the amount of water they may drink. And all this work simply for the honor of the University, for the University of Chicago never plays questionable men. Surely all praise is due to these men.

Another very praiseworthy fact, which has

One of the eyesores of our campus just at present is the unsightly A Campus piece of ground east of Eyesore Ellis avenue, between Snell and Cobb. At present this ground is a patch of weeds and sandburrs, but with a little attention it might easily be changed into a beautifully sodded lawn.

Possibly there has been some excuse for neglecting it while the sidewalks and heating tunnels were being put in, but now that these are finished there seems to be no reason why we should still have this distasteful remembrance.

This ground is in one of the most conspicuous parts of the campus, and does much to weaken the impressive appearance of our "City Gray." We hope that this plot will be sodded over in the near future.

COMMUNICATIONS

To the Editor of The Daily Maroon:

Dear Sir:

The recent senior election at Rush Medical College having given rise to such an odorous and malignant controversy, I think it will not be amiss for me, as ex-president of the class, to attempt an explanation, and, if possible, "smooth it's wrinkled front."

In regard to the first meeting held Saturday, October 18: In the course of events it was decided at this meeting that only members holding white cards were eligible voters (a very unfortunate conclusion); later on when the votes had been cast for Mr. Tuffley and Mr. Ury, the presidential nominees, and the tellers were putting the result on the board, three mistakes at least were made—in whose favor it is impossible to say. The ballots, instead of being kept, were destroyed, the tellers showing us the result of the ballot—Mr. Tuffley 99 votes and Mr. Ury 98 votes. This raised a storm of protest, some claiming that the votes were not counted correctly, which was possibly true, and others that some of the so-called brown-ticket members had voted, which was undoubtedly true, but at the time unavoidable. These questions were met by parliamentary law: that votes should be challenged before proceeding to ballot, and that as the ballots were destroyed, no recount was possible. A motion was then put to the effect that there be a reconsideration, which was lost, thus declaring the result as it stood, viz.: Mr. Tuffley 99 votes and Mr. Ury 98 votes. The chair realizing that although the question was parliamentary, yet having the element of unfairness in its make-up, pleaded for more time in which to decide it, or better, to try and effect a compromise between the two nominees and suggested adjournment, which was carried.

As no compromise could be made a meeting was called for Tuesday, October 21. The chair called for the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting, which were approved as read, but through some possible blunder by the secretary, the motion to reconsider was lost, but it appeared in the notes of the secretary as CARRIED! This error was seen by Mr. Smyth and corrected by him, the chair stating that they stand approved as corrected. No objections following the chair proceeded with the proclamation of Mr. Tuffley as president of Rush '03, at the same time stating his reasons for such a decision. No objections raised Mr. Tuffley took the chair.

A fusilade now began at the chair (i.e., President Tuffley) with disorder a very prominent feature, scattered through which were: the approval of the original minutes as recorded by the secretary, the motion before the class, re-ballot, impeachment, etc., etc., all of which were out of order. The chairman declared the meeting adjourned and left the chair, whereupon a large number left the room.

Mr. McIntosh, junior first vice-president, in the commotion took the chair after I, as ex-president, had refused, and called the remaining portion of the class to order. After the motion, to proceed to the balloting for president, which was seconded and carried, it was so ordered with the following result: Mr. Ury, 121 votes, Mr. Tuffley, 12 votes. Mr. Ury took the chair, made a few brief remarks, and in the course of time the meeting adjourned.

Very respectfully yours,
EDWARD P. FICK,
Junior President Rush '03.

been brought to our notice, not a single one of the men on the training-table drew a fatal three weeks' notice. Perhaps the University of Chicago is the most strict institution in the country in regard to public appearance. No flunkers are tolerated in any departments, and we feel proud to think that every man on the football squad has shown himself to be a good, faithful student as well as a football star.

There would undoubtedly have been a Maroon demonstration between halves had it not rained. However, every Chicago constituent seemed well pleased.

He is playing tackle. This ready acceptance by an institution of such high standing, where football material is plentiful, speaks well for the worth of our graduated football man. His Alma Mater congratulates him.

Notes of Saturday's Game

There were a noticeably large number of conferences between plays among the Chicago backs. This occasioned much overt grumbling among the more impatient Illinois rooters.

A decision which caused considerable adverse comment in the Chicago bleachers was the one which gave Illinois the ball, after Wightman had apparently made our required distance. The explanation lies in the fact that Wightman ran the ball out of bounds and then back in again; as the ball was called down when he first ran out, he failed to make his distance.

The play in which Speik apparently made a touchdown by catching Ellsworth's attempted place kick, but was called back, also requires some elucidation. As the ball had not touched an Illinois player before Speik caught it, he made an offside play in catching it, and had, therefore, to be called back and give the ball to Illinois.

Another blunder was made by Beebe in attempting to run with the ball instead of punting. The ball was passed to him direct

A. Schrubb ran four miles, at Brighton, England, last Saturday, in 19:31 3-5, lowering the amateur record by .2 1-5. Schrubb ran four miles at Red Hill, September 20, in 19:26 4-5, but the record was not accepted officially. However, the record that he made Saturday will stand.

The sophmores and freshmen at Lake Forest University clashed last Friday evening. The '06 men attempted to hold a class party at the home of one of the men, but were intercepted on the way and taken to North Hall, where they were bound down to the vacant beds and left over night.

Thursday night Mrs. Charles Hitchcock gave a dinner at her home in honor of Miss Frances G. Wheeler, to whose good taste and untiring zeal she feels is due the beautiful furnishing and decorating of Hitchcock Hall. The dinner was followed by a reception and musical. Miss Wheeler has been connected with the University for the past three years. Two years ago she had charge of re-decorating Nancy Foster Hall and in addition to her present work in Hitchcock, she is overseeing the changes made in Beecher and Snell Halls.

It is generally understood that Eckersoll, the star Hyde Park athlete, will choose Chicago as his Alma Mater. All the western colleges, and Wisconsin in particular, have been making strenuous attempts to secure "Eckie's" choice. He has, however, declared his intention of giving his services to us next year, and unless, as we need scarcely apprehend, "Eckie" changes his mind we shall have him here.

from the center, never touching the quarter's hands. This made it impossible, according to the rules, for him to run with the ball.

Another Illinois man was guilty of a disastrous misplay in attempting to run the ball back after it had been punted over the goal line. Had he downed the ball behind the line, Illinois could have kicked out from its twenty-five-yd. line; as it was he was tackled on the three-yd. line, and Illinois was compelled to punt from that point.

The Illini rooters declare that on a dry field the score would have been very different. We think so, too. Stagg was as anxious for a dry gridiron as the most rabid Illinoisan; both the old man and the students think that we would have run up a far greater score on a good, dry field.

The extreme sloppiness of the field was doubtless the only thing which prevented such a demonstration on the part of the students as we gave between the halves of the Purdue game.

According to Coach Sanford there is no luck involved in the recovery of fumbled balls; it is purely a matter of agility and close attention to the game. The team which excels in these particulars gets the ball.

The supporters of the Champaign team came up here primed with a lot of funeral dirges relating to "burying Chicago." They found the corpse in question so lively, however, that the interment was postponed and the songs and requiems put on ice for use next year.

They were a game lot, those Illinois lads; there wasn't any "quit" in their make-ups.

There was only one thing for them — to fight on to the end — and they did it. There is almost as much glory in being a good loser as in being victorious.

The Illinois cheer-master rather injudiciously wore out his rooters' voices by working them to the limit in the first half. And naturally by the middle of the second half, there wasn't much yell left in them. The cheer-master's lungs were made of iron, however, and he wanted everyone else to keep pace with him. He said impolite things and almost wept in his chagrin at their inability to cheer.

The Maroon rooters showed that there were no hard feelings, when they cheered lustily for Stahl.

RUSH MEDIC NOTES

Professor Lorenz, a famous European physician and surgeon, attended Dr. Senn's clinic last Friday afternoon.

A large number of juniors are commencing laryngoscopy under Dr. Torrison of the department of chest, throat, and nose, this week.

The services of C. H. McKenna as coach of the college football eleven have been procured by Captain McClure. McKenna is a veteran of the U. of W. gridiron.

Mr. Post, formerly assistant in bacteriology under Professor Jordan has recently been appointed to the position of assistant to the pathological laboratory of Professor Ludwig Hektoen. Mr. Post was a Delta U. man at Chicago, and is a Nu Sigma Nu at Rush.

Mr. George Scheer has returned from the University of Wisconsin, where he spent his summer vacation working under Professor Miller, on the "alveolar structure of the lung." The "Hull Court" medics will remember Mr. Scheer as assistant in pathology under Dr. Wells at the University last year. Mr. Scheer is a member of the Phi Beta Pi fraternity.

Extensive preparations are being made by the alumni of Wisconsin University for their banquet next Friday night at 6:30 o'clock at the Victoria Hotel. One of the main objects of the spread is to stir up enthusiasm for the great athletic battle with Michigan the following day. The Varsity Glee Club will be there to sing those songs that are dear to the heart of every Wisconsin man. Among the speakers of the evening will be Senator Spooner, Coach King, ex-Captain Richards, "Ikey" Carroll, Henry Cochrane, and a number of the present Wisconsin faculty and members of the team. All Wisconsin men are cordially invited to attend. Tickets may be procured of C. H. McKenna at $1 per plate.

DIVINITY NOTES

Yesterday afternoon the Northwestern Baptist Education Society held its annual gathering in Haskell.

The meeting of the Theological Club last night was the first one under the regime of the new president, A. S. Wilson. The former incumbent was W. C. Keirstead.

A church paper of a few days ago announced the ordination of Mr. A. E. Patch. It is hoped that this will not take him out of the library service. Middle D has waited long for the appointment of its new head. The house organization, however, is called to meet this evening and will try to make the best of it.
