DECENNIAL SOUVENIR

Final Number of the Weekly in Magazine Form Now on Press

Elaborate Edition Will Fill a Long-Felt Want

The Decennial Souvenir number of the University of Chicago Weekly is now on the press.

This is the farewell number of the Weekly, and also its decennial number. The edition is in magazine form and has one hundred and ten pages of reading matter. It has a handsome cover in blue, white, and gold, and there are over two hundred illustrations. It is the most elaborate souvenir that the students have produced up to date.

In 1899 a souvenir of the buildings and grounds appeared, also under the auspices of the Weekly. This was found to be a very useful book, and there was a large demand for them. The present souvenir contains very much more than that. It not only has pictures of the buildings and grounds and reading matter concerning them, but has many other things. The buildings and grounds are brought up to date, with many new illustrations taken especially for the souvenir. Besides this there is a large section containing pictures and biographies of the most prominent members of the faculty. There are over a hundred and fifty biographies and about fifty cuts of the professors. There are many pictures of professors who have not heretofore allowed their pictures to appear in print. This will enable those who are not familiar with the faces of our large and prominent faculty to become so. It will also serve as a very useful reference book.

Besides this section, there is one on the affiliated schools and another on student activities. The section on student activities contains a history of the Weekly, pictures and accounts of the musical clubs, the band, the senior class of 1902, and the athletic teams. The volume as a whole should fill a long-felt want.

THE DAY JUST BEFORE THE BATTLE

First Weekly Sing Friday—Rooting Against Northwestern to Be Organized

The first of the weekly football sings will be held in Kent Theater Friday at 10:30. Allen Burns will preside at these meetings, and Ernie Miller will lead the singing, with the help of the candidates for the glee club.

The popular football songs written last year and in earlier years have been printed, and will be distributed to those present Friday. These songs are familiar to many, and no doubt the singing will be enthusiastic. Those who do not know these songs, and this applies especially to the new students, should come out and learn them, as we shall want them when we play Michigan and Wisconsin.

It is intended to turn these weekly sings into informal mass meetings. Extempore speeches will be made and matters of interest in rooting will be discussed. These will be interesting assemblies and all students will do well to attend.

Sections for Rooting Provided

Sections AA and BB on the east side of the field have been reserved for season-ticket holders and those paying general admission, respectively. Students who buy general-admission tickets are urged to come early and secure a position near the season-ticket holders.

ORGANIZATION CHANGED

Musical Clubs to Be Managed on a Different Basis than Heretofore

Director Lester B. Jones Submits Regulations to Student Board of Control

For several years the plan upon which the musical clubs have been run has furnished much cause for dissatisfaction. In order to organize this year's club upon a different basis, Lester B. Jones, the University Director of Music, wrote to the managers of seven prominent college clubs. He inquired into their system and manner of organization. Letters were received from all of them. The replies showed marked differences between the organization of our club and theirs.

Mr. Jones then prepared a list of regulations and presented them to the Student Board of Control yesterday afternoon. The Board considered the articles and adopted them with but few changes.

In speaking of the change Mr. Jones said that he expected there would be an objection raised by the students to certain clauses in the articles. These clauses demand the payment of $5 as a deposit. This money is to cover fines and any deficit there may be at the end of the season.

PRELIMINARIES IN TOURNAMENT

Candidates for Varsity Golf Team Play Over Homewood Course

Eighteen holes out of the thirty-six to be played in the competition for the Varsity Golf Team were played off yesterday over the links of the Homewood Golf Club at Flossmoor. The remaining eighteen will be finished today. Medal play scores only are taken account of in the tournament. The men making the best five scores will compose the team which is to meet Michigan on the 24th and 25th of this month.

The links at Flossmoor are among the most difficult in the country, and this fact is a great disadvantage to a player unaccustomed to the course. Despite this, however, Fred Pettet, the state champion of Wisconsin, went round the 18 holes in 81, one stroke better than bogey. Ashley Dixon, champion of the Homewood Club, came next with 84.

The other scores made were: Wayland Magee, 92; "Tod" Sloan, 93; S. R. Capps, Jr., 99; N. Buck, 100; M. C. Craig, 100; J. W. Carroll, 101; H. Hibbard, 102; B. Pettet, 102; F. W. Pardee, 110; J. Johnson, 110.

The play today will be in match rounds; the following are paired together: Craig vs. Fardee; Capps vs. Magee; F. Pettet vs. Johnson; B. Pettet vs. Buck; Hibbard vs. Carroll; Sloan vs. Dixon.

FIRST MATCHES

Tennis Men Are Weeded Out—Now Ready for the Semi-Finals

In the preliminary round of the tennis tournament yesterday, Russell defeated Pritchard 6-0, 6-2; Marsh beat Willington a close match, scoring 6-4, 3-6, 6-4; O. Johnson whitewashed Storms, 6-0, 6-0; Hudson won from Lovewell, 6-1, 6-4; Proctor walked away from Webb, 6-0, 6-2; and Wickes defeated Bates, 6-3, 7-5. The matches of Clark vs. Trust and Boer vs. Farrel have not yet been heard from. The following matches occur today: Bingham vs. Russell and Hudson vs. Proctor. Wickes' opponent is not yet decided upon. The winners of today's matches will be qualified for the semi-finals.

Comedians of the class of 1905, or rather, authors of that painfully funny poster which made its '05's appearance Tuesday morning, where did you get the idea? That joke book must have contained such ticklers as "Why does a chicken cross the road?" or "Who was the first express company?" Honestly, that poster was a wonder. It ought to be placed in the archives of some deodorizing company, or be posted on the Stock Yards fence. Come forward, ye Francis Wilsons and Frank Daniels, in disgust! Every true critic of a joke is looking for you with a death-dealing weapon. Don't hide your light under a bushel; appear in all your glory and you will feel small enough to hide it under a pint tincup.

Say, the next time you feel funny and want to do something clevah, get some real jokes.

'05 surely has some one who can be funny; but don't, we beg of you, for the sake of our risibilities, concoct another spasm like that poster.

Dr. Dodson, during his remarks to the junior class Monday morning, in the lower amphitheater, U. of C. Tickets among other things said for Medics that the medics, while they are nominally students of Rush, are in reality students of the University of Chicago, Rush having become the Clinical Department of the Medical College of the U. of C. at the time the articles of affiliation were adopted by both faculties.

President Harper, in his address to the assembled senior, junior, sophomore, and freshman classes, in June, 1901, when the South Side movement was the vital issue of the hour among students as well as the faculty, said that every man at Rush, in virtue of the article of affiliation, was just as much a student of the U. of C. as the students actually in residence at the U. on the Midway.

One of the great objects to be accomplished by moving last year's sophomore class to the West Side was to make the medics part and parcel of an institution of general learning where they might enjoy the atmosphere and breathe the spirit of culture and refinement of a literary school. This is substantially the way in which Dr. Barker advocated the change. In fact the wish of the entire faculties of both institutions seemed at that time to be to make the Rush medics students of the U. of C. nominally and in reality.

That sophomore class actually did move to the South Side. Their second year's work has been finished, and now they have returned to the West Side again, to complete their professional studies in the "Clinical Department of the Medical School of the U. of C."

But now these men apply to the athletic department of the U. of C. for season tickets to the football games at students' rates, and the athletic management replies: "Tickets are sold at reduced rates to students of the U. of C. only, and you are not among that number. Consequently you pay regular prices, or about twice as much as the charge for students of the U. of C."

The medics feel slighted, just as they did last summer quarter regarding the free tickets to the open lectures. They have good cause for complaint. They are students of the U. of C. just as truly as are the members of the Ogden School of Science, the Divinity, Law, and Post-Graduate Schools. The rights of members of these several schools to the privileges of students of the U. of C. have never been even so much as questioned. Why, then, should the rights of the students of the Clinical Department of the Medical College of the U. of C. be not merely challenged, but even absolutely denied by the athletic department of the same University?

GARGOYLETTES

Did you ever try to climb a vacant stare?

The Bunglo: "I just dote on that girl." The Philosopher: "You should take an anti-dote."

Won't this do? I have been trying for a week to get into the Gargoylette column. Are my productions too literary?

WAITING WILLIE.

Professor Vincent in Sociology Class: What can you tell me of life of the people on the plains of the West?

Bright Senior Coed: I really don't know much about those people.

Professor Vincent: Well, surely you know something about the question. You have heard of Kit Carson, of course?

Bright Senior Coed: Yes, I have heard of her, but I don't know very much about her.

A TESTIMONIAL

Dear Sir: I take one of your gargoylettes every night before retiring, and find no difficulty in falling asleep immediately. I can recommend them as being very pleasant to the taste and without any harmful after effects. Please send me another box by return mail.

NEWS FROM THE UNIVERSITIES

Up to date Minnesota's goal line has not been crossed.

A football game between the University of South Dakota and the Omaha Medical College resulted in a free-for-all fight. Not only did the players jump all over each other but even slugged the umpire when he tried to show that his decisions and penalties were fair.

Northwestern coeds are aroused by an announcement made in chapel that no women students will be allowed to participate in the university day parade in honor of the installation of President James, on Monday next. They have held an indignation meeting and are going to petition the faculty to be allowed to take part in the procession.

"I see Hunter has stopped college."

"Yes, he made the football team and that was his undoing. He was half-back in math, fullback in chemistry, and about a quarterback in everything else on his card. Besides he refused to tackle back work, so there was nothing for the faculty to do but to send him to the side-lines." — Ex.

Wisconsin sophomores have posted the following proclamation: "Infinitesimal particles of atomic insignificance, mewling infants of 1906: Tremble with palpitating terror, for demoniac deviltries and hellish holocaust of gory slaughter is about to render your pusillanimous impotence into a mass of crushed and mangled corpses. Burrow deep and avoid destruction."

The society is to work in conjunction with the American board, and though the first three or four years will be devoted mainly to the laying of foundations, the movement is so popular among the faculty and alumni that great results are almost certain to come in the course of five years.

FRENCHMEN TO STUDY HERE

A Philanthropist Will Maintain Young Men at the University

The vice-rector of the University of Paris is in receipt of $1,600, from M. Robert Le Baudy, for the purpose of maintaining, at our University, two young French professors who will study American methods and customs and teach French language and literature in other American universities.

These two, in company with four teachers, who are sent by the French department of public instruction at an expense of $3,200, will arrive within a month. Prof. Maxime Ingres says that these six men will form the nucleus of the French normal school which is to be established here during the winter.
